PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

- Explore the relationships and gaps between “good simulation practice” (realism) and “good clinical practice” (authenticity).
- Examine ways that professional and personal lives contribute to simulation.
- Generate thoughtful discussions that disrupt conventions, redefine contemporary pedagogy, and challenge innovations.

OVERVIEW

This three-hour must-attend conference offers an opportunity to examine the accelerated future of healthcare simulation. The past two years' transformation created new normals, new opportunities, and new challenges to improve patient outcomes. A kick-start to exploring the relationship and gaps between “good simulation practice” (realism) and “good clinical practice” (authenticity). Does engineered fidelity bring us closer to authenticity? How, do professional and personal lives contribute to simulation? What are the most critical decisions and how can we be prepared to bring productive changes?

TARGET AUDIENCE

Simulation in Healthcare Leaders, Healthcare Administrators, Policy Decision Makers and Stakeholders, Researchers, Scholars, Educators, Learners, Simulation Enthusiasts, and Friends

Welcome, Introductions, & Program Overview

Symposium Presiders: Susannah Kurtz, MD, CHSE; Priscilla Loanzon, EdD, RN, CHSE; Daniel Satnick, MD, 2022 Planning Committee Co-Chairs

11:10 AM

Keynote Speaker: Peter Dieckmann, PhD, Dipl-Psych

Senior Scientist, Copenhagen Academy for Medical Education and Simulation

(CAMES), Denmark; Professor, Healthcare Education and Patient Safety, University of Stavanger, Norway; Lecturer, Department of Clinical Medicine, University of Copenhagen, Denmark

12:15 PM

Panel Discussion: Peter Dieckmann, PhD, Dipl-Psych; Kellie Bryant, DNP, RN, CHSE; Bryan Mahoney, MD

Moderator: Joseph Mathew, MD, FACEP, FCCP

12:50 PM

Zoom Break - 10 minutes

1:00 PM

Oral Presentations

Moderator: Daniel Katz, MD

1:00 - 1:10

Presenter 1: Edith Robin, MD

Exploration of Decision-Making Process and Cognitive Biases among Internal Medicine Residents Through High-Fidelity Simulation

1:12 - 1:22

Presenter 2: Jared Kutzin, DNP, MS, MPH, FSSH

Can the virtual world replace the real world for skills training?

1:24 - 1:34

Presenter 3: Michael Light, MD

The Evolution of a Simulation Program at a Community Hospital: Challenges and Successes

1:35 PM

Oral Presentations - Panel Discussion and Q & A

Moderator: Daniel Katz, MD

1:55 PM

Closing Remarks

Symposium Presiders: Susannah Kurtz, MD, CHSE; Priscilla Loanzon, EdD, RN, CHSE; Daniel Satnick, MD, 2022 Planning Committee Co-Chairs

S P E A K E R

Meet our Speaker!

Peter Dieckmann, PhD, Dipl-Psych
//Keynote Speaker

Senior Scientist, Copenhagen Academy for Medical Education and Simulation (CAMES), Denmark; Professor, Healthcare Education and Patient Safety, University of Stavanger, Norway; Lecturer, Department of Clinical Medicine, University of Copenhagen, Denmark

Peter Dieckmann's research on simulation addresses the theoretical foundations and practice of using simulation to create, recognize and use learning opportunities for simulation learners and faculty members in different context. Peter's research with simulation focuses to explore simulation's possibilities to optimize work systems. Beyond simulation, Peter investigates issues of the practice of patient safety work, psychological safety, medication safety, and visual research methods.
