FACULTY E-MAIL LIST SERVES

Two popular faculty e-mail distribution lists that you might want to join are:

- faculty@mssm.edu – Posts information of general interest to faculty, e.g., department seminars open to the entire ISMMS community, and new resources available to faculty. SIGNING UP*:* Email the Academic IT Support Team, ASCIT@mssm.edu , and ask them to add you to the list.

- Research Listserve – Provides important ISMMS news and information to investigators and their teams.   Depending on your interests, you can opt to receive messages from particular administrative support groups, e.g., the Grants and Contracts Office, the Program for the Protection of Human Subjects, and more.
  Signing up: Go to the The Research Listserv web page to check whether you are already a member, and if not, how you can sign up. This web page also includes instructions on how to tailor your messages to your areas of particular interest, and how to modify your selections at any time.
