

Edmond O'Leary, DO, MS

Resident (PGY3), Internal Medicine
Mount Sinai South Nassau

Service to their peers: "Dr. O'Leary is the epitome of an excellent physician and role model. I had the pleasure of working with him directly on several of my recent rotations and his educational prowess helped me to grow and level up. He would allow me to come up with my own assessment and then would go line by line to evaluate my thought process and rectify any questions or deficiencies in it. He never rushed and always challenged me to be better. He would provide me with daily reading material to help me grow and evolve. Additionally, he has an art of connecting with patients. Being around him, I got to witness what an excellent provider is like. The ability to work with him proved to be vital in my present clinical training and I am forever blessed for this opportunity."

Bertin Salguero Porres, MD

Fellow (PGY5), Pulmonary Disease and Critical Care Medicine
Mount Sinai Morningside and West

Service to their peers: "Bertin is an amazing fellow and physician. I've seen him go above and beyond the call of duty in providing patient care. He has strong analytical skills to evaluate and interpret clinical data, make accurate diagnoses, and develop evidence-based treatment plans. He thinks critically and adapts his approach when faced with unexpected complications or changes in a patient's condition. Bertin demonstrates a genuine dedication to providing high-quality patient care. He is attentive to patients' needs, advocates for their well-being, and ensures that they receive appropriate and timely interventions. He has strong leadership skills, including the ability to delegate responsibilities, provide guidance, and foster a positive working environment. Bertin exhibits amazing emotional resilience, the ability to cope with stress, and maintains personal well-being allowing him to thrive."
